

INTERIOR DESIGN

PUBLIC & PROFESSIONAL SERVICES CAREER PATHWAY

TURNING SPACES INTO INVITING LIVING AREAS.

Tidewater Community College's interior design program provides a foundation in both commercial and residential design. And it is one of two programs offered within Virginia's Community Colleges, providing an affordable option to private design schools.

TCC interior design students work on the latest industry software and gain skills in many areas, including visual presentation, space planning, color theory and selection, material selection, estimating and construction documentation.

PROGRAMS

ASSOCIATE OF APPLIED SCIENCE IN INTERIOR DESIGN

Complete in as few as 4 semesters / 66 credits

Design a future in both commercial and residential spaces by developing skills in visual presentation, spatial and lighting design, color coordination, material selection, estimating, and contract planning. You'll also work with state-of-the-art technology that incorporates interior design with the latest versions of computer-aided design software.
